GERMANY WOULD RING THE CHANGES

EAT FRUIT—DRINK FRUIT JUICES.

Nature provides these at the season your system needs them most. You can stand the hot, oppressive weather better if you will use liberal drinking quantities of lemons, oranges and grape juice—and eat freely of peaches, melons, etc., but see that you use good, sound fruit.

HARDY NEWTON

THE BRYAN RESIGNATION HAS PUFFED THEM UP

The Imperial German Government Has Evidently Misinterpreted the Bryan Resignation. They Believe It to Mean a Change of Sentiment Which President Wilson Must First Reconcile—The Resignation Evidently Influenced, the German Reply on the Lusitania. They Believe Americans Now Favor the Separation of Passenger and Contraband Traffic. Germany Will Not Vouchsafe Americans on American Ships Unless United States Guarantees no Contraband on Board—Germany and United States in Deadlock on War Points and President Wilson Must Decide Course. Berlin Press Thinks American Sentiment Has Changed—American Press Comment on Note Is Unfavorable—A German Submarine Sank Three Ships.

[By Associated Press.]
Washington, July 16.—Official here today wondered what influence had caused the German government in its latest note to completely disregard the American point of view.

There were intimations that Berlin believed that public sentiment in the United States was divided since the Bryan resignation and that Americans now favored the separation of passenger and contraband traffic.

The United States had insisted on the principle that Americans be allowed to travel on unarmed ships unrestricted to the ships to any nationality. Germany ignored this. The German note also appears to indicate that Germany will not promise complete immunity to Americans even aboard American ships unless the United States guarantees that these vessels are not carrying contraband.

Many officials believe Germany is prepared to destroy American passenger ships if they carry contraband. Germany's one definite proposal that four of her enemy's ships could sail under the American flag if neutral passenger facilities were inadequate, is certain of rejection because it would mean the United States should interfere with the shipment of lawful contraband to belligerents. Germany and the United States have reached a virtual deadlock on the legal points and it is now up to President Wilson to decide the country's policy. It is generally believed here he will again await the crystallization of public sentiment in this country and try in the next move to interpret the wishes of the American people.

BERLIN PRESS ON NOTE.
[By Associated Press.]
Berlin, July 16.—The Morning Post, commenting on the German note, says:

"Feeling in the United States is changed from what it was at the time of the sinking of the Lusitania and Wilson will have to satisfy this new feeling in answering the present note. That this note will meet unreserved approval at the hands of a large part of the Americans is certain."

UNITED STATES PRESS OPINIONS
[By Associated Press.]
New York, July 16.—The early American editorial comment is unfavorable on the German note. The New York Globe says: "Unsatisfactory." The New York Sun says: "The climax of impudence." The New York Herald calls it "defiance."

Submarine Sinks Three.
[By Associated Press.]
London, July 16.—A German submarine off the Cornish coast shelled and then torpedoed and sank the British steamer Ellesmere. A shell killed one of the crew. The others were saved. Submarines torpedoed the Italian steamer Clio and the Norwegian steamer Nordaa. The Clio's crew was saved. It is reported the submarine saved the Nordaa's crew.

BIG DROP IN COTTON TODAY

The Political Situation and Favorable Crop Reports Caused the Break.

[By Associated Press.]
New York, July 16.—Renewed liquidation of the cotton market, due to the political situation and the favorable crop situation, caused a break of one dollar and fifty cents a bale here today. October sold for $3.75, or more than five dollars below last week's highest point.

He—What's the matter with your church choir? They don't seem to pull together.
She—Well, the tenor's in love with the soprano, who is in love with the basso, who is deeply infatuated with the alto, who loves the tenor, but is married to the organist.—Judge.

A Curious Beetle.
The little bombardier beetle became preyed upon by larger beetles of its own family has been armed by nature with what is practically a miniature cannon. When attacked the bombardier beetle jumps and ticks off, but it is evened by the larger insect—bang! and an acid fluid is shot from glands situated in the tip of its tail onto the enemy beetle. The acid when ejected vaporizes upon reaching the air and thus gives the effect of a puff of smoke from a gun, while at the same time a small but distinct report, like a tiny cannon, is heard. The bombardier beetle is a rapid dresser, too, for the discharge can be repeated in quick succession, and thus the little insect keeps off his larger foes until he can scurry into a convenient hole in the soil or find shelter under a stone.—Atlanta Journal.

This Happened in New York.
"No spit English," gesticulated Haffa with rising excitement, looking rather wildly about for an interpreter, down at the Seamen's Church Institute on South street. Arab translators are not frequent about the institute, and the man behind the desk down in the savings department was distinctly mystified, says the Lookout.
"He won't take this money; it's interest on the gold he deposited with us a year ago," he explained at last to a glittering eyed man from Bagdad who finally came to the rescue.
"On, no, he can't; Mohammedans—they can't—any of them. It is against their religion to take interest. Haffa, he very good, very devout," protested the interpreter. And Haffa went away, virtuously content.

Antimony.
The use of antimony is to harden the softer metals, such as tin and lead, in the manufacture of shrapnel shells, ball for machinery bearings, type metal and castings of all kinds. In its pure state it cannot be employed for any useful purpose, owing to its extreme brittleness. Its value in alloying, however, is great, not only because it hardens metal, but because of its low melting point.

Aroused His Curiosity.
"I'm sorry I told the boss that he couldn't get along without me. I just aroused his curiosity."
"Aroused his curiosity?"
"Yes. He was curious to know if what I said was so and decided to make the experiment."—Detroit Free Press.

MAY PUT ON DAY SERVICE

Reported the I. & G. N. Will Put No Day Train Back About August 15.

The Eagle is informed that the officials of the International & Great Northern Railroad recently held a meeting in regard to inaugurating day passenger train service on this branch of the road, and have practically concluded to make this addition about August 15. The officials were asked to inaugurate this service some time ago, but until recently the proposition was not entertained. The passenger service on the road is reported much better since the night trains were inaugurated, and the traffic is said to be much heavier than before.
